

Next generation terminal management

Implico Unveils Future Visions at the Exclusive NextGen Terminal Management Conference 2023

Hamburg, October 10-11, 2023 – Implico, a trailblazer in global supply chain solutions, is excited to announce the NextGen Terminal Management Conference 2023. Spanning one and a half days, this exclusive in-house event promises a deep dive into the future of terminal management, focusing on stakeholder thinking, digitalization, and the ever-important energy transition.

Event Highlights:

Stakeholder Thinking: In a constantly evolving industry landscape, understanding and addressing the needs of every stakeholder is of paramount importance. Sessions surrounding this theme will emphasize the importance of adopting a holistic approach to terminal management.

Digitalization: As the focal point of Implico's overarching vision, digital transformation is the cornerstone of this year's conference. Attendees will gain insights into the latest technological solutions that are pushing the envelope in the terminal management sector.

Energy Transition: With the world pivoting towards sustainable energy solutions, discussions about the energy transition help to highlight how terminals can adapt and thrive in this new era.

Who Should Attend?

This invite-only conference is tailored for decision-makers and key users from Implico's esteemed customer base, including representatives from TMS, iGOS, and QINO. These industry leaders will have the opportunity to immerse themselves in productive discussions, explore the latest innovations, and acquire a first-hand impression of Implico's vision for the future.

Detailed Program:

The conference is set to kick off with an evening event, setting the tone for the profound discussions to follow. The subsequent full conference day will be packed with enlightening sessions, panel discussions, and networking opportunities – all centered around the three main topics.
